

Core Information Integration Technology Research Interests

Stimulate research, innovation, and understanding in technologies supporting information sharing and context-aware integration & access to very large, widely distributed, heterogeneous, federal electronic records & other information collections,

Especially integration & access responsive to:

- questions that may only be answered by accessing the aggregated collections collectively or
- when collections are governed by heterogeneous sensitivities or differential access requirements